THE WICK HAVEN DISASTER.

The Wick Haven explosion and the death of the only occupant of the mine at the time the fire broke out, the appearance of being an accident due to the carelessness or over confidence of the victim himself. It can hardly be explained on any other hypothesis than that he opened his safety lamp not suspecting any danger at the moment. "Familiarity breeds contempt." No where perhaps is the truth of this maxim more thoroughly demonstrated than in mining. Notwithstanding the many disasters due to the explosion of mine gases, and the established fact that no mine is ever entirely free from this danger, yet, time, minutes will disregard the law about open lights; they grow careless of the danger they seldom encounter and become imbued with a sense of safety that in some fire moment is their undoing.

If they were the only victims of their folly, it would not be so bad, but they involve scores and sometimes hundreds of their innocent fellow workers who have faithfully observed the rules made for their safety.

The Wick Haven disaster is deplorable, but it might have been worse.

THE UNSAFE SINK BANK.

Foreigners who drew their money out of a Lathrop bank were relieved of the risk by robbers within twenty hours after it had been with drawn from the bank. Panic-stricken foreigners who took their savings from a Lathrop bank a few days after the robbery, the bank is not to be trusted. It is creditable to the common sense of the intelligent foreigners and Daglish-speaking people that they are not following the example of the foolish depositors who are withdrawing their savings and sending them to dangers that are being demonstrated every day. In fact there are evidences that the bank has turned money is being brought back to the banks for re-deposit every day. It is certainly safer there than at the Lathrop bank.

THE ELASTICITY OF OUR LABOR SUPPLY.

The Connellsville coke region hasn't the most elastic currency but it has a elastic labor supply. The Slovaks furnish the larger portion of the miners and coke drawers. When work is plenty a steady stream of immigration sets in, and when demand for coke falls off and even blows out there is an exodus of the Slovaks. It returns to the "fatherland" his pocket is well filled with American coin to wait the next call for his services. Much objection has been made to the Slovaks because of the fact that he does not always make his home here but returns to his native land and takes his accumulations with him but how much better would this country be off if he remained?

CONNELLVILLE WON'T BE ABANDONED.

The Connellsville Herald-Journal has just published the announcement that the Pennsylvania railroad is about to leave Connellsville by building its line around the town. This is an old rumor, recently revived by our imaginative town neighbors. The News it is true to bad as The Herald would have its readers think, even though it should prove true.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.

Connellsville will have the pleasure of hearing Colonel Bryan, The Young Men's Christian Association have substituted him for Sonnet. Lillian in its lecture course. The substitution is a decided improvement. Colonel Bryan is an orator of power and pleasing address. To borrow the sentiments of Horace Van Swearingen he is a fine man personally but we don't like his politics. Lillian is a petriquette without an convincing repellent. Bryan is dignified earnest eloquent and endowed with personal magnetism in a high degree. Bryan is a charming Christian gentleman. Lillian is an accomplished background whose language sometimes sounds decidedly incongruous in a Young Men's Christian Association meeting.

We congratulate the Young Men's Christian Association on their change of program and predict a large audience for Colonel Bryan.

The professional railroads have it that the Pennsylvania will abandon its present route through town and cross on its original route through the north suburbs of town into New Haven via the old Sodan shops. This tale has more on it.

Beautiful Snow is a cold proposition for everybody but the coal men.

Dundee has inaugurated a wheelbarrow patrol. The furnace town is progressive. It is a pushing police force.

Leah Klechka pleases reads a headline in a local paper. We are glad that Leah was pleased. From what we read of the size of the audience Leah must be easily pleased.

In the interest of newspaper reputation it is hoped that the third and last reported sale of the Jlatotter interests to the Brick company will stand.

The Brownville cracker has gotten an awful crack.

The bulk of Fayette county's bank loans are not on water but on coal and a more substantial security could not be offered.

The News confesses to "West Side visions." That's what they are.

The Lake Erie employees got the cold.

The yellow streaks that are coming across the ocean to America are having a red white-and-blue welcome.

WAS A FALSE ALARM.

A Big Smoke Caused Scuttle Firemen to Hustle on Wednesday.

HAVE OVERESTIMATED MATTER.

Pittsburg Woman Commends Lecturer at Methodist Episcopal Church Tonight—Some Tales of Scrip Money—Other News Notes.

SCOTTSDALE, Nov. 14.—John Hare, a new resident of town, created some excitement by a report at the borough building that an overplus of fire was going on in the rooms under his dwelling place, at 121 Broadway, the building formerly occupied by A. Fleming's laboratory. Mr. Hare came to the borough building in the forenoon and gave it out that there was danger of fire in the place, so that on account of the smoke he had to remove his family to save them from suffocation and that he thought the place was on fire. The people at the borough building sent in an alarm of fire on the information furnished them, and in a couple of minutes after the whistle screamed John Darling's wagon, was the performing part of a hose wagon and with a crowd of firemen and a hose cart were flying for the plug the reported fire. When it was found that there was no fire the man was locked up. Afterward he explained that there was scarlet fever in his family and that he had been up for three nights with them, an explanation that under the circumstances caused the firemen to relinquish any feeling they had in the matter, and the man being in an improved condition, was sent back to his family. The affair while it lasted caused quite a good deal of excitement.

Mrs. David Stoner and son Scott, of Wilkinsburg, are here visiting friends. Mrs. Stoner has been a frequent attendant at the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburg, whose pastor, Rev. Dr. Wedderspoon, lectures in the First Methodist Episcopal church tonight in the congregation's celebration of the closing of the 50th year of debt paying. Mrs. Stoner says that the Emory church people are greatly pleased with their pastor and that the people here may expect a great lecture.

Thomas Slaughter, a mechanist of town, expects to leave in a few days for Panama, where he has a government job at his trade. This business of scrip payment has its humorous side. J. Warren Brooks, the druggist, tells this brief tale of a Sunday morning experience since the so in payment began. A man entered the drug store and asked for a pint of whiskey, but did not display any physician's prescription, which at a drug store is necessary to get any quantity of such stuff and it must be by a known physician, too. "We don't sell whiskey," replied Mr. Brooks. "Why not, I have a scrip," answered the man. He went out so easily that the druggist is puzzled yet whether the fellow really wanted to get the whiskey or whether he was anxious to rid his 50 cents of the worst pun of the week. Scott Stoner, from down Pittsburg way, contributed this to the symposium. At one of the big factories the management posted notices in about every language explaining the scrip payment system. In a few hours they found that the foreigners were trying to spend the notices. They mistook the notice for scrip. "Have you got a sandwich in your pocket?" inquired George Shupe of an inebriated and inquiring look Shupe hurriedly explained. "You know they are worth five cents now."

Collector George B. McMillan is now sending out notices of taxes which are now all one due. He requests that within 30 days of the notice all who have not paid are requested to call at the borough building where he is ready to receipts for taxes, being in his office every day, and on Saturdays from 7 to 9 o'clock. Mr. McMillan sent out itemized notices of taxes on August 28. The taxes now stand over and it is the end of 30 days' notice the collector can force payment.

Chief of Police Frank McCudden is home from a couple of days hunting over near Flatwoods. "What did you get?" asked his friends when he marched in to the borough building. "Two moneyed rabbits," was the disgusted answer. "Then he told how in old farrow was going to shoot him for coming on his land and might have done so only the farmer had a single barrel shot gun and McCudden had a double barrel blunderbuss."

SIS IN NEW YORK

Attention at the Colonial Theatre This Evening. There is said to be more fun stored in the new play "Sis in New York" than in any that she has had. There is plenty of chance for good comedy and her player hits have proven in the past that they know how to supply the Hoosier funmaker with plenty of opportunities. If you are there when she and Zeke show Flapout Morgan how they can dance in Posey county Indiana, you will get your money's worth. "Sis in New York" comes to the Colonial Theatre this evening.

Killed by Slate Fall. George Linkins was killed in the Latrobe-Cornellville mine near Latrobe yesterday by a fall of slate.

CLOSED CRACKER PLANT.

Chatland & Lenhart, Brownsville, Have Writs Issued. Deputy Sheriff S. B. Decker went to Brownsville Wednesday and served writs of execution on William L. Lenhart and Mary A. P. Chatland, doing business as Chatland & Lenhart, and took charge of their place of business in the time being. It is thought that they can resume the work. The executions were issued at the instance of the Monongahela National Bank of Brownsville.

One claim is for $1,500 and another for $1,000. In still another claim Annie J. Lenhart, now for the use of the Monongahela Bank, is the plaintiff. Chatland & Lenhart have been conducting a cracker establishment in the river town for a long time.

RAISED HIS OFFER.

Manager Hantman of Maple Land Will Give $100 for Exposition of Onelda Performance.

Manager Sam Hantman of Maple Land this morning raised his offer to the public from $25 to $100, in the event that any one can explain the performance of Onelda, the Lamprace of mystery, playing here this week. Mr. Hantman overheard some patrons saying it was a fake show, and he offers to allow any person desiring to go upon the stage to investigate the performance as minutely as desired, and if anything like a satisfactory explanation of the mysterious performance is explained he will pay over to any candidate institution named the amount stated.

Many contend that Madame Onelda performs the mystery through the medium of spiritism, while others say her performance consists of tricks, but how she does it has not been explained. It is a genuine bona fide performance and offer.

Election Results.

Official returns from the recent election in Somerset county show the overwhelming Republican sentiment still existing in the county. Shantz beat Harman for State Treasurer by 1,102 out of a total vote of less than 3,000. John H. Miller, for District Attorney, and Dr. C. L. Pringle, for Coroner, all Republicans, were elected by big majorities.

AFTER TOBACCO TRUST.

Prosecution by Government Will Be Regarded as Test Case. NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 11.—(Special.) Much interest centers in the case of the seizure by the government of $750,000 cigarettes in transit from the American Tobacco Company to the British-American Tobacco Company of Great Britain which came up for hearing today in the United States Court. The case is a first one and the seizure of the cigarettes marked a new departure in the government's methods of handling the trusts. The allegations of the government contain the charge that the British-American Tobacco Company was created as an instrumentality for the purpose of defeating and violating the laws of the United States and carrying into effect unlawful contracts, agreements, combinations and conspiracies with the several American Tobacco companies, and that it is the principal office have been in London the Chairman of the Board of Managers, William H. Harris, is an officer of the American Tobacco Company and maintained his office in New York.

This is Our First Sale of Millinery This Season

We have the busiest Millinery section in Connellsville. Superior Millinery is the cause and it is alone due to the rush and bustle of this department that this sale is made possible. We insist on our work rooms turning out a specific number of hats every day. A few rainy days last week caused business to fall off a little. Hat making went right on. No room for the hats—so out they go at lowered prices. We price them in two groupings.

Regularly $6.50 to $8.50

Trimmed Hats, made from felt and shapes, stylishly made with velvet, tulle, ribbon, coques, wing, feather and flower trimmings.....

$5.00

Regularly $5 and $6

This group includes velvet, felt and tulle shapes, trimmed with coques, feathers, wing, flowers, etc., the most stylish hats at the former prices that we've produced this season.....
